

BURGER PLANET

Surprise
games inside!

SHIVANGI SHARMA

AMAY SHARMA

Once upon a time, in a galaxy far, far away, spun mighty planets and stars the likes of which you've never seen. From glistening pizza planets and huge hot dogs to shooting candy bars and Oreo's belt, this was no ordinary galaxy.

This was the HUNGRY WAY, and everything in it was entirely made from food! Sitting right in the heart of it was the most mouth-watering planet of all ...

0 ...Welcome to the BURGER PLANET!

Burger Planet was split into seven different cities. There was Pattysburg, Tomatown, Los Lettuce, Mustardale Ketchupolis, and Swissconsin. Each of these cities was STACKED on top of one another, all WEDGED firmly between the two mighty buns of the Sesame Cities. These twin cities covered the whole top and bottom of the Burger Planet.

Swissconsin was the famous capital of the Burger Planet, fondly nicknamed 'The Big Cheese'.

Story continues for 11 pages...

Around Burger Planet spun two shiny purple rings made of onion. It's a good thing that the onion rings didn't spin too close to the cities ... for some reason they always seemed to make people cry.

For many years, the citizens of Burger Planet cities all got on famously. What a combo they made – each of them PERFECTLY complementing the other. You could say they went together like lettuce and tomatoes, like ketchup and mustard, like ... well, like burgers and buns. Together, these citizens made the whole planet a yummylicious family.

BREAKING NEWS JUST IN

You are watching News Just In with Justin. I've mustard up the courage to be at the Hamburger Hall, where Chatty Patty has called an emergency meeting. Tonight I'll be answering the juiciest question on everyone's lips – what is Patty so salty about? Will she manage to get the fillings off her chest? And will anybody else get a word in edgeways? Stay tuned to hear it all!

A hush fell over Hamburger Hall as Chatty Patty stepped out onto the stage and CLEARED her throat dramatically.

Fellow Burger Planet citizens! You're probably wondering why I have called you all here today. Well, it has come to my attention that some of you no longer have respect for the boundaries between our cities ...

For many years, the citizens of Burger Planet all got on famously.
But following a BIG FIGHT between Chatty Patty and Catcher Ketchup, several citizens decided to leave the planet.

Will they ever come back?

Will people like to have a burger that has ... umm ... not much ... inside?

Or will people forget about burgers
forever?
